Dear Bernardine,

The fall school year is back in full swing, and Kid-Safe Productions is back in schools with "Stop! That's Bullying" and our new Drama/Empathy Workshops for Junior and Intermediate Students (see sidebar).

We've recently updated our bullying prevention show with the help of acclaimed child-discipline expert Barbara Coloroso. Now our production helps students and teachers tell the difference between teasing (when everyone's laughing together) and taunting (when words are used to hurt or embarrass). When we all know the difference, we can help stop bullying in its tracks!

Read on for a special offer to help get your school year off to the right start. (See coupon below.)

And watch for a full newsletter coming in time for Bullying Awareness Week, where you'll find valuable new resources to help you support your students.
