Salon Alure Supports Meagan's Walk and Melanie's Hair of Hope

Melanie Wightman, a grade 10 student from Michael Power St. Joseph's Catholic Secondary School, has been growing her beautiful hair for a couple of years, with the plan to donate it for children with cancer who need wigs as a result of hair loss due to cancer treatments.

In addition to donating her hair, Melanie also decided to raise funds for Meagan's Walk and began collecting pledges from family and friends, schoolmates and teachers. Her original goal was $1,000 but she has far exceeded this and now has close to $1,800 in pledges collected.

Additional pledges to Melanie's campaign can be made to Meagan's Walk.

Salon Allure, a hair salon and spa in the Kingsway, whose owner and stylists are big supporters of Meagan's Walk, has volunteered to cut and style Melanie's hair. The big "cut" will happen at the end of April and Melanie's hair will be delivered to the Canadian Cancer Society.

Salon Alure is also once again participating in Meagan's Walk with its own team and is reaching out to its clients for donations and support. Thank you for your continued support!
