

Music/ Art / Images for the Virtue of Charity

Music:

Please invite your students to submit playlists/song titles that embody the spirit of this virtue.

- Listen to a guitar fingering stylist like Peppino D'Agostino to see what we mean. On his album Close to the Heart, good examples are "Higher Connections," "Samba Marina," and "London Skies."
- Artist Claes Oldenberg's giant steel Clothespin reminds us that connections are made through ordinary, everyday things. By exaggerating its size, the artist encourages us to value this household object. It is a simple tool that can secure a sock to a clothesline, but it is also a symbol of an embrace, reminding us of how we connect with other people.
- Whatsoever you do
- Ubi Caritas
