Art Suggestions:

Some of Pablo Picasso's most famous paintings evoke compassion.

- Guernica, painted in 1937 for the Spanish Pavilion at the Paris World's Fair, reflects the artist's visceral response to the destruction caused by the Spanish Civil War.

- Weeping Woman, from the same year, is considered to be a postscript to Guernica

Songs:

- We are the World- Various Artists
- Help by the Beatles
- Just Call My Name by James Taylor
- Heal the World by Michael Jackson
- Imagine by John Lennon
- Benjamin Britten's War Requiem was first performed at the 1962 dedication of the new Coventry Cathedral built next to the ruins of the cathedral destroyed during World War II. In this choral work, Britten alternates the language of the mass with tenor and baritone solos taken from the antiwar poetry of Wilfred Owen, who died on the battlefield in World War I.
