

Good morning

The temperature this morning will be around -21c to -22c with a wind chill around -32 to -34 based on Environment Canada and The Weather Network data. We know from previous experience that we will have more delayed buses than on average due to the impact of the cold on vehicles and school buses which will put a greater risk to student safety where students may be waiting for prolonged periods of time out in the cold for buses.

Given these concerns, all school bus transportation in the city of Toronto has been cancelled for today.

Schools and offices will remain open.

Parents are being reminded to consider alternate arrangements for transportation.

Everyone is encouraged to dress appropriately for the weather, and to give yourselves extra time to get to your destination safely as some roads may be icy for the morning commute.

Stay safe and warm everyone!
