COURSE DESCRIPTION (AS SPECIFIED IN MINISTRY OF EDUCATION POLICY DOCUMENT)

This course draws on geographic concepts, skills, methods, and technologies to analyse significant issues facing Canadians as citizens of an interdependent world. Students examine the challenges of creating a sustainable and equitable future through the study of a range of topics, including economic interdependence, geopolitical conflict, regional disparities in the ability to meet basic human needs, and protection of the planet’s life support systems.

How This Course Supports The Ontario Catholic School Graduate Expectations:

We live in a world of crises. Whether it is war, global hunger, environmental degradation, or human rights violations, we are desperately seeking to analyse and seek solutions to our world problems. As we begin the twenty-first century, we realize that we cannot ignore, nor should we ignore, these global concerns. Geographically the earth is a holistic entity. We now realize that our world is also holistically a political, economic, and social entity. As Catholics, we have to ask ourselves how we will respond to our many global challenges and whether we have an articulate response to these issues. Unit topics encourage students to develop moral, ethical, and realistic decision-making in an effort to develop as conscientious Christian citizens. Students develop a respect for humanity and the environment based upon the study of issues presented in this course. They also have the opportunity to develop Christian values, Catholic understandings, and possible solutions to help them create a Catholic vision of the future that inspires hope, confidence, and the development of a just and compassionate global society.

DEPARTMENT POLICIES, PROCEDURES AND STUDENT EXPECTATIONS

WRITTEN WORK

- Teachers in this subject area are required under most circumstances to give at least a ONE week due date notice for all evaluations or assignments. Unit culminating assignments require at least a TWO week notice. Thus, the final due date will have passed 7 days (i.e. or 14 days for major assignments) for the student at the start of the class period to receive a mark of zero unless prior to the due date alternate arrangements are made with the teacher (e.g. for family emergencies, extended school trips, special educational considerations, etc.). The teacher will also accept a late assignment handed in along with a written explanation as to why the assignment was late and use his/her professional judgment as to whether the assignment will be evaluated. The teacher will take into consideration legitimate extenuating circumstances for the assignment not having been submitted electronically or by other means by the student on time. The teacher will also provide an alternative assignment in cases where the assignment was already handed back to the class and where the student explanation was deemed appropriate by the teacher. The teacher will also provide a no mark for skill related assignments (e.g., paragraph structure, bias, graphing, etc) and will provide a new due date to make up the skill related work. The onus is on the student to approach the teacher for any alternative opportunity. All “no marks” will be translated into zeros at the official reporting period. The teacher during the official reporting period will also consider the student’s most consistent level of achievement within the 4 evaluative categories and will use professional judgment to adjust.

PLAGIARISM:

- Students shall be reminded that the use of an author's ideas in a student paper without giving proper credit to the author constitutes plagiarism. Likewise the use of an author's words without providing proper citation is plagiarism. All information and ideas taken from a source must be noted! One must use a footnote or endnote to give proper credit to the author. Also, works (i.e. including images) taken from the internet must adhere to copyright laws. Finally, a bibliography is a requirement for all major research papers.
- Students submitting other students’ work in full or partially will be deemed as plagiarism and both the copier and provider (i.e. if provider has prior knowledge or through negligence) will receive a mark of zero.
- Students must hand in original copies and are expected to produce upon request a second copy of all research information and rough copies and drafts within 24 hours of the request. Failure to meet the requested expectations will result in a zero mark given. This also means that students are expected to have duplicate copies of all major assignments at hand to be submitted to the teacher if necessary.

SEMINAR OR ORAL PRESENTATIONS

- Attendance for a seminar or oral presentation on the date assigned is an academic responsibility, both to a student’s classmates and to the teacher. Firstly, cancellation of a seminar will create serious curriculum problems for the teacher. Only a certain amount of planned time is allotted for such seminars so that the core curriculum specified through the Ministry of Education is covered. Secondly, your classmates also plan their agenda in accordance with what is to be covered on a particular class day. Therefore, the consequences for missing a seminar are more severe compared to any other assignment.
- In the case of a medical or family emergency, the following procedures must be adhered to, otherwise a mark of zero will be assigned:
 - Phone the school office by 8:00 a.m. and leave a brief message with the secretary or e-mail your teacher
 - Upon return to school, provide the teacher with a medical certificate explaining your absence. For family emergency situations, please have your parent leave a message via an e-mail or directly on the teacher’s voice mail box if this is indicated by the teacher to be the preferred method.
 - Upon return to school, provide the teacher with proof that the presentation is complete.

*Please note that the above three expectations may be waived by the teacher if the absent student has switched dates with a classmate. Written proof of such is highly recommended along with teacher approval.

GROUP WORK EXPECTATIONS

Successful group work depends upon the individual effort and participation of each of the members of the group. It is therefore the student’s responsibility to be present and actively involved in group discussions and presentations. To ensure that a student and the group are not penalized because of an absence, it is essential that:

- the group chairperson have at least rough copies of all the members’ work
- the group be prepared to present even in the absence of one or more members
- it is the student’s responsibility to call or e-mail each member of the group and the teacher prior to the presentation in the event of a crisis that prevents his participation.

ABSENCES FROM CLASS

Please note that it is the responsibility of the student to find out what work has been missed in his absence. Whenever possible, see the teacher to receive class assignments prior to an absence if it is known ahead of time (e.g. sporting events). If that is not possible, use the e-mail system. (your own teacher or margouv@tcdsb.org---Dept. Head)

In case an assignment was due on the day of an absence (with the exception of homework—show the teacher first day back), the student is responsible to either e-mail the assignment or deliver it to the teacher by some other means on the due date. Failure to deliver the assignment on the due date would result in an assigned mark of zero. Tests and quizzes must be written first day back accompanied by a parental note and in consultation with the teacher’s preference of time (i.e., usually before school begins).
