More about Mary Ward Catholic Secondary School:

Mary Ward Catholic Secondary School, Centre for Self-Directed Learning, is a co-educational high school named after the founder of the Order of Loretto Sisters. We offer an internationally acclaimed program of self-directed learning which emphasizes developing time-management skills, taking personal responsibility for learning, enhancing spiritual growth, and encouraging academic excellence. This successful and innovative approach to education is supported by a unique and highly-regarded Teacher Advisor program. At Mary Ward we believe all students learn best when they:

- see purpose in learning
- set their own learning goals
- follow an individualized and personalized program
- have time and space to actively pursue individualized learning in a building designed to complement this program
- relate directly to a Teacher Advisor who monitors their progress and serves as a mentor
- feel they are a valued member of a caring, Catholic community

For the past 31 years, Mary Ward has distinguished itself in academics, athletics, and the arts. In an environment that encourages collaborative decision-making and collegial relationships among administrators, teachers, support staff, students and parents, we strive to live our motto, Because We Believe, and to integrate the values of the Gospel into every aspect of school life.
